

Masking

An inexpensive and reliable method in locating leaks, Masking refers to the application of a masking compound placed on the system and moved around until a fall in pressure is observed. Once the pressure drops – you've found your leak!

*While this method can also function as a temporary fix.
Permanent repairs should be carried out as soon as possible.*

Method

Masking compound is placed over suspected areas until fall in pressure is observed

Masking compounds

- Apiezon 'Q' compound.
- Silicone spray.
